

Using the Typhon Storage Server to Store Your Images

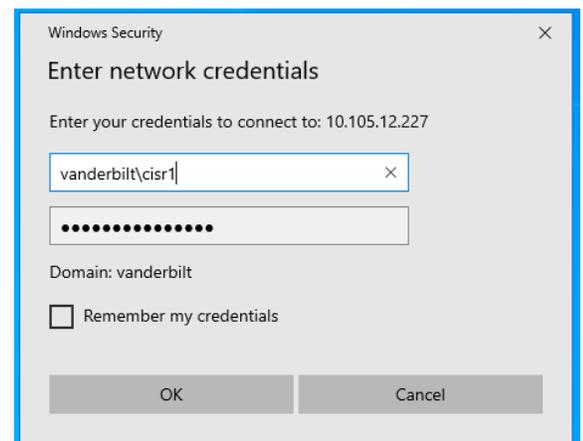

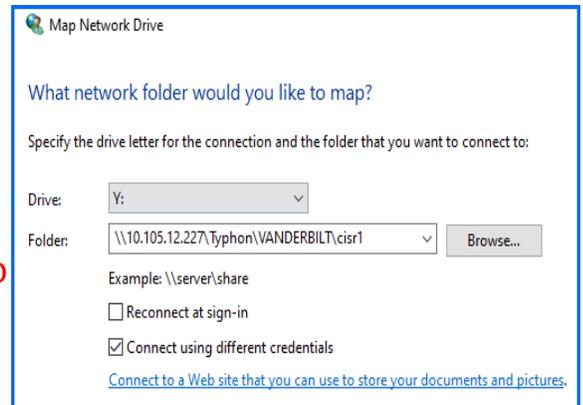

The Typhon Storage Server is a very large, very fast disk storage system available to all CISR users, and is our preferred location for temporarily storing image files.

IMPORTANT! When mapping a drive outside of CISR locations, you will want to connect to Ethernet directly via cable, not Wi-Fi. Connecting to Typhon in VUMC buildings using Wi-Fi will require you to use a VPN in order to access Typhon. Direct cable connection to an Ethernet port is highly recommended.

Accessing Typhon from other PC computers:

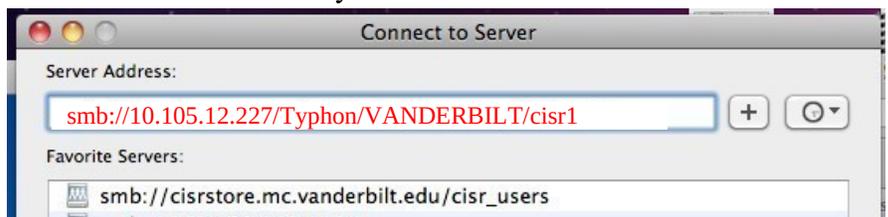

To access your Typhon folder from a PC outside of CISR, follow these steps:

- 1) Logon to your PC.
- 2) Press the Win Key + e , and right click on “This PC”.
- 3) Select “Map Network Drive”
- 4) The window to the right should appear. For Drive, choose an available drive letter.
- 5) For Folder, enter:
\\10.105.12.227\Typhon\VANDERBILT\your_VUnetID
(your_VUnetID is your actual VUnetID, e.g. cisr1).
- 6) If you want the drive to reconnect every time you logon, check “Reconnect at sign-in”
- 7) You will need to click on “Connect using different credentials”. The window to the right should appear. For User name, enter VANDERBILT\your_VUnetID (your_VUnetID is your actual VunetID, e.g. cisr1). For Password, enter your VUnet password.
- 8) If this is a personal, not a public computer, click “Remember my credentials.”
- 9) Click OK. You may have to try twice to connect.

Accessing Typhon from a Macintosh:

- 1) In the Finder, select the Go menu
- 2) In the Go menu, select “Connect to Server”
- 3) The “Connect to Server” window should appear. For server address, enter:
smb://10.105.12.227/Typhon/VANDERBILT/your_VUnetID (your_VUnetID is your actual VunetID, e.g. cisr1). Your personal folder is labeled with your VUnetID.
- 4) Click connect. If your Mac requests that you authenticate, enter
VANDERBILT\your_VUnetID and your password.
